NURTURING Parenting®

FACILITATOR TRAINING

Stronger Families. Brighter Futures.

If you're passionate about building stronger families and breaking intergenerational cycles of trauma, become a trained facilitator in the Nurturing Parenting® Programs.

These evidence-based, trauma-informed, and family-centered curricula are nationally recognized for their role in preventing child abuse and neglect.

Developed by Dr. Stephen Bavolek, the Nurturing Parenting® Programs are built on the belief that nurturing can be taught—and when it is, families thrive.

Through structured learning, reflection, and connection, caregivers gain tools to support empathy, discipline without shame, and healthy parent-child relationships.

YOUR TRAINER

REBECCA ARMENTROUT, MA ECSE

NATIONAL TRAINER – NURTURING PARENTING® PROGRAMS

Rebecca Armentrout is a National Trainer for the Nurturing Parenting® Programs, recognized for her expertise in delivering high-fidelity training while supporting culturally responsive and trauma-informed adaptations.

With a background in reflective supervision and early childhood development, Rebecca empowers facilitators to honor the lived experiences, languages, and traditions of diverse families—ensuring program integrity is preserved while access and relevance are strengthened.

Her training approach equips professionals to maintain the core values of empathy, nurturing discipline, and developmental understanding, while integrating flexible strategies that align with both the curriculum and the unique needs of each community.
