

Valerie Gemanis, M.S.

Valerie Gemanis was born and raised in Fresno, California. She received her BA and MS in Psychology at California State University Los Angeles. Valerie also has a teaching credential, a degree in Alcoholism Counseling, and an Adult Education Teaching Credential for Parenting. In her quest for knowledge and personal growth, she became a Certified Instructor of the "Understanding Yourself and Others" course, a 3-day, intensive, experiential workshop.

- Valerie's career with Fresno County Children's Protective Services began in 1979. She has worked in most areas of CPS—Emergency Response, Sexual Assault, Adoptions, Court, Reunification, and others. In 1994, she helped develop the Parent Education Unit facilitating The Nurturing Programs® with CPS clients. She has instructed over 700 parents.
- In 1999, Valerie became a Recognized Trainer/Consultant in the family-based Nurturing Parenting Programs® and began conducting Facilitator Trainings. Since that time, she has trained over 900 participants to facilitate The Nurturing Programs®. She remains a consultant and part-time employee of CPS while also offering independent Nurturing Parenting Programs® facilitator trainings.
- Valerie's training style is both intense and fun. She is noted for her nurturing, enjoyable, and informative workshops.

Family Nurturing Centers International, Inc.

Incorporated in 1983, Family Development Resources, Inc. (FDR) was established by Stephen Bavolek for the express purpose of developing, validating, and distributing parenting programs, videos, and assessment tools to build nurturing parenting skills in families and consequently, prevent and treat child abuse and neglect. Family Nurturing Centers, International was established to provide training and consulting in the Nurturing Parenting Programs. The Nurturing Parenting Programs®

The Nurturing Parenting Programs are family-based programs with a proven track record of preventing the recurrence of child abuse and neglect that address the specific needs of different populations. Trauma-informed care defines "empathy" which is the cornerstone of the Nurturing Parenting Program. Initial research and development for the Nurturing Parenting Programs occurred in the early 1980s. National implementation began in 1985. Over the past 30 years, about 14,000 agencies have implemented NPP worldwide, reaching an estimated 2 million families. Approximately 30 studies have been published or described in evaluation reports. Nurturing Parenting Program are currently being implemented worldwide.

Adult-Adolescent Parenting Inventory

The AAPI is an inventory designed to assess the parenting and child rearing attitudes of adult and adolescent parent and pre-parent populations. Responses provide an index of risk for practicing behaviors known to be attributable to child abuse and neglect. For more info, visit www.assessingparenting.com.

Nurturing Skills Competency Scale

The NSCS is a comprehensive criteria referenced measure designed to gather demographic data of the family, as well as knowledge and utilization of Nurturing Parenting practices. The data generated from the pre-post administration allows parents and staff an opportunity to measure changes in family life, knowledge and utilization of Nurturing Parenting practices. For more info, visit www.assessingparenting.com.

Parenting Attitudes about Raising Teens Inventory

PARTI assesses the parenting beliefs and practices of raising adolescents. One version for the Parents and one version for the Teens allows for observation in similarities and differences, assessing parents and teens, teens only, parents only, and expectant Teen partners.

Philosophy of Nurturing Parenting

The philosophy of Nurturing Parenting emphasizes the importance of raising children in a warm, trusting and caring household. It is founded on the belief that children who are cared for grow to develop the capacity to trust, care for and respect themselves, other people, living creatures and the environment. The philosophy of Nurturing parenting is founded on seven principles:

1. Feelings of Attachment. Attachment is a bond between parents and their children which conveys a deep, mutual, unconditional love. When children feel loved unconditionally, communication, trust and respect naturally follow.
2. Empathy. Empathy is the ability of parents to put themselves in the place of their children in an attempt to feel, think and understand what their children are feeling, thinking and understanding, and responding to them in a loving and respectful way.
3. Nurturing Oneself. Taking time to get one's own needs met, as an adult, forms the foundation of understanding how to help children get their needs met. Nurturing parents take care of themselves as well as their children.
4. Gentle Touch. Research has shown that children who experience warm and gentle touch in the form of hugs, pats, and massages develop and maintain healthy relationships throughout their lives, as well as a healthy and positive sense of themselves.
5. Discipline. Setting limits through family rules, teaching right from wrong, communicating family morals, and teaching respect and worth through family values are important tasks in a nurturing family. Discipline cannot be imposed, beaten into or forced on children but rather develops best when children model their parents whose example they admire.
6. Expressing Feelings. Helping children and adults learn appropriate ways to manage and express their feeling is a fundamental characteristic of a nurturing family.
7. Expectations and Self-Worth. Knowing what to expect of children as they develop plays a significant role in their self-worth. When parents have appropriate expectations, children learn that they are competent people, capable of pleasing others important in their lives.

The Nurturing Parenting Programs® are included in the Substance Abuse-Mental Health Services Administration's (SAMHSA) National Registry of Evidence-based Programs and Practices (NREPP) and recognized by the Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention (OJJDP).
