The Nurturing Programs are family-based programs with a proven track record of preventing, intervening and treating the recurrence of child abuse and neglect.

Four levels of Nurturing Programs address the specific needs of different populations:

Primary/Prevention-Education
Programs are designed to empower individuals and families with new knowledge, beliefs, strategies and skills to make good and healthy lifestyle choices.

Secondary/Prevention-Intervention
Programs are designed for at-risk youth, teen parents, and families experiencing mild to moderate levels of individual and family dysfunction.

Tertiary/Prevention-Treatment
Programs are designed for families referred by Social Services or other high-needs families for child abuse and neglect and/or family dysfunction.

Comprehensive
Programs are designed for agencies to offer long term, more comprehensive services.

Adult-Adolescent Parenting Inventory (AAPI-2)
The AAPI-2 has proven invaluable in assessing attitudes and beliefs of parents and adolescents. Founded on five parenting constructs known to lead to abusive parenting, the AAPI provides scores that profile parents at risk for abusing and neglecting children. Forms are available in English and Spanish. For more information, please visit www.aapionline.com.

Who Can Benefit
Professionals and paraprofessionals working in education, mental health, juvenile probation, violence prevention, child welfare, school systems, treatment facilities, social work, and social services.

The Nurturing Program and the philosophy behind the program have successfully been utilized by:

- Home-Based Service Providers
- Youth Residential Centers
- School Districts

Philosophy of the Nurturing Program
The philosophy of the Nurturing Program emphasizes the importance of raising children in a warm, trusting, and caring environment. It is founded on the belief that children who are cared for develop the capacity to trust, care, and respect themselves, others, living creatures, and their environment. This philosophy is founded on 7 principles:

1. Feelings of attachment: Attachment is a bond between a parent and their child that conveys deep unconditional love. Children who feel loved unconditionally, exhibit positive communication, trust, and respect naturally.

2. Empathy: Empathy is the ability of parents to put themselves in the place of their children in an attempt to feel, think, and understand what their child is feeling, thinking and understanding and respond to the child in a loving and respectful way.

3. Nurturing Oneself: Taking time to get one’s own needs met as an adult forms the foundation of understanding and helping a child get their needs met.

4. Gentle Touch: Research shows that children who experience warm and gentle touch in the form of hugs, pats, and massages develop and maintain healthy relationships throughout their life, as well as a healthy and positive sense of self.

5. Discipline: Setting limits through family rules, teaching right from wrong through family morals, and teaching respect and worth through family values, are all part of a nurturing family. Discipline develops best by children modeling their parent’s examples.

6. Expressing Feelings: Helping children learn appropriate ways to manage and express their feelings is a fundamental characteristic of a nurturing family.

7. Expectations and Self Worth: Knowing what to expect of children as they develop plays a significant role in the child’s self-worth. Children learn that they are competent people, capable of pleasing others who are important in their lives when the adults in their lives have appropriate expectations.
